ASSISTANT CHIEF CLERK MEETS DEATH IN UNUSUAL WAY

A FALLING RAILROAD TIE ENDS MAN'S LIFE

Unusual Accident At Monessen This Morning Terminates Career of Assistant Chief Clerk of Page Steel And Wire Company

LUCKLESS, S. A. WILKINSON

Employes Dropping Ties Preparatory to Hauling Them Away, And Believed Coast Is Clear, But Wilkinson Stepped Out of Subway And Is Struck

Struck on the head by a falling railroad tie, Samuel A. Wilkinson, aged 29, of Main street, Belle Vernon, assistant chief clerk of the Page Steel and Wire company, Monessen, was instantly killed this morning at 7:45 o'clock while on his way to work, the accident occurring within 100 yards of the office.

Due at his work at 8 o'clock, Wilkinson had just left the street car at the entrance of the hubway which leads to the plant. He walked through the subway and was just turning the corner to go into River street, when the tie struck him, death coming instantaneously.

A number of railroad ties were being removed this morning by employes of a Monessen transfer concern from the right-of-way of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, and in order to haul them away more easily, the ties were dropped to the entrance of the subway below. It was the second tie dropped that proved fatal to Wilkinson.

The employes dropped one tie and looking over the embankment to see if the coast was clear they dropped the second, but in that instant Wilkinson stepped out of the subway and received the full force of the falling tie, on the head.

Wilkinson had been employed by the Page Steel and Wire company for the past six years and was a valued employe. He leaves a wife and two children.

The employes of the transfer company were taken into custody and will be held at the police station pending a coroner's inquest to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

SEEKS TO CHECK CHANGE IN DRAIN

The borough of Canonsburg yesterday [illegible] against Thomas Arrigo, road contractor and the State Department of Highways, Paul D. Wright, commissioner.

The action grew out of a change in a drain on the Canonsburg-highway in the borough of Canonsburg, near the incinerator plant and the athletic field of that borough.

At present a change is being made in the route of the road between Canonsburg and Morganza. The borough alleges that the contractor had made a change in the drain in question from where it would follow natural course, to another location resulting in water being diverted to this athletic field, and causing considerable damage.

Next Monday at 1 o'clock has been set as the time for the hearing the motion for a preliminary injunction.

UNVEIL TABLET AT MEETING OF PRESBYTERY

The quarterly meeting of the Redstone Presbytery was held yesterday in the Belle Vernon Presbyterian church with an attendance of over 100 ministers and elders from the various churches represented in the district. The all-day session concluded with a special service in the edifice last night, the feature of which was the unveiling of a bronze memorial tablet to the memory of the Rev. Perrin Baker, who, for 40 years, occupied the pulpit of the Belle Vernon Presbyterian church.

At the services last night, which were well attended, there were three addresses and special music. Rev. E. M. Bowman spoke on "Rev. Baker in the Presbytery," Rev. W. G. Ranage on "Rev Baker's Work in the Community," and Rev Steele on "Rev. Baker's Influence For the Future" The tablet was unveiled by Samuel McKean.

Rev. Stanley H. Jewell, pastor of the Belle Vernon Presbyterian church, was in charge of the services.

Mr. Burton also served in Congress with the late Congressman Ernest F. Acheson for many years being chairman of the rivers and harbors committee of which Mr. Acheson was a member.

FARM CENSUS BEING TAKEN

In connection with the movement to further advance the interests of agriculture throughout the state and in compliance with an act of assembly passed in 1921, there is now being carried forward in connection with the triennial assessment, a farm census. The county commissioners are co-operating with the state and are anxious that this county be in the front line in its return.

Farmers, assessors, and all others interested in this census of agriculture are urgently requested to record only accurate data, since the information so derived will be extensively used by and will be of direct and material benefit to:

The county commissioners in making provisions for the needs of agriculture in their counties;

The Agricultural Extension association in measuring the progress it is making and planning further programs for the best development of agriculture in the respective counties;

The agricultural organizations, such as horticultural associations and breeders' organizations, in determining trends and adjusting their production to probable future market demand.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture in compiling agricultural statistics for the state, which are of basic importance in forming a state agricultural policy; and

The United States Department of Agriculture in checking against and supplementing census figures insofar as Pennsylvania's agriculture affects national agricultural statistics and developments.

The act creating this assessment becomes operative this year. The department already has the questions made up in convenient book form and these have been distributed to the assessors by the county commissioners.

OFFICERS TOLD TO REPORT AT SAN DIEGO

San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 23. — Four marine officers and four gunnery sergeants from Mare Island have been ordered to report at San Diego and "hold themselves in readiness for anything."

In this order naval officials see partial confirmation of a rumor that the United States plans to send an expeditionary force to China to protect American interests. No official confirmation can be obtained here.

Rumor that such a force would be sent to China came Saturday when Mare Island officials were notified to hold the naval transport "Argonne" in readiness. At the time the orders were received the Argonne was being made ready to be made over into a submarine tender. The ship is now being refitted for resumption of transport duty.

Elks Plan For Happy Social Season

The Charleroi Elks are laying plans for a brilliant social season The beautiful ball room at the local Elks home has been the scene of much activity of broom and brush with the result that the pretty interior is more attractive than ever. The floor has received its share of attention and will meet the approval of the most particular of dancers.

Exalted Ruler Joseph L Connell has appointed G. H. Zimmerman and Lawrence J. Bailey to head the dance committee. The committee wishes to make known that its policy will be to maintain the high social standard that local Elks have always advocated.

Plans are now in formation to bring to our town several of the country's foremost dance orchestras Ample opportunity will also be afforded to hear all of our own local syncopaters. The opening number of these most popular fall and winter dances is soon to be announced and invitations issued. The committee will cater to the social sect of the valley and may attempt a few innovations, such as dances using local orchestras fortnightly on Fridays. A formal dance each month has been advocated. The committee will welcome expressions and suggestions.

The Exalted Ruler states that the "Bingville" committee is nearly completed and announcement of this popular annual event will soon be made public The "Bingville" this year will far surpass any such previous "big times."

Elsie Sweeten Admits Poisoning of Her Husband So That She Could Be Free to Love a Methodist Episcopal Clergyman

TWO IN MURDER COMPACT

After Death of Sweeten, Wife of the Preacher Received Poison In Her Food, And Dies In Keeping With Plot— Woman Makes Complete Confession

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—Naming her pastor as her betrayer, Elsie Sweeten, 34, today confessed she poisoned her husband, Wilford, so that she could be free to love Rev. Hight.

After an all-night questioning in the Jefferson county jail, following her arrest on a confession last night by Rev Hight implicating her, the pretty brunette told a complete story admitting the crime.

Rev Hight, middle-aged Methodist Episcopal pastor of Ina, the village in which Mrs. Sweeten lived with her husband for several years, loved her and she reciprocated the affection, she said.

Mrs Sweeten said she did not love her husband because he neglected her. After dictating a complete confession, the woman, exhausted, fell into a deep sleep.

Rev. Hight, still pious, held in a small jail for the murder of his wife by arsenic—a murder to which he has confessed, prayed for the woman as she told her story. "I love her," he said. "She reciprocated my affection. It was all a terrible mistake."

Hight furnished Mrs. Sweeten with the arsenic to poison her husband, which she administered repeatedly until he died July 28. Then Mrs. Anna Hight, wife of the circuit rider, pastor for 20 years, fell sick and the minister keeping what he said his end of the murder compact, gave poison in her food until she died September 12.

TRI-CITY RALLY ON OCTOBER 5

At the joint meeting last night of Church school teachers and officers of the Episcopal hurches of Charleroi, Monessen and Monongahela, held in the rectory at Monongahela, arrangements were completed for a tricity rally to be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock October 5 at St. Paul's, Monongahela. Much enthusiasm was shown at the meeting and the affair promises to be a success from every standpoint.

The chief object of the rally is to stir up interest among the church school children as well as the parishioners and the local representatives at the meeting last night will make a strong effort to have a large representation present from St. Mary's on that day. It is hoped that the congregation will be able to furnish [illegible] dren to and from Monongahela.

There will be a speaker from Pittsburgh present at the rally and speical singing will feature. The children as well as the grownups will march in procession under their banners from the retory into the church. Although the local Church school enrollment is very much smaller than those of Monessen and Monongahela, it is hoped that St. Mary's will make a worthy and big showing and to do this the cooperation of every church member is necessary.

ENGINE HITS TRUCK 3 ESCAPE INJURY

FUNERAL FOR HANAN WINNETT HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Hanan Winnett, aged about 63, who died in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital Sunday morning at 11:50 as a result of injuries received when run over by a street car on the W. M. B. V. and F. C. Street Railway company, took place this afternoon at 2 30 o'clock in the Howe church. Interment followed in the Howe cemetery Rev. Dr. E. H. Greenlee, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated at the services.

Harry Mills, Jr., and two companions, Mills, a man of about 40, and his companions, young men, had a narrow escape from death when the truck which Mills was driving was struck by a switch engine at the Phillipsburg crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad this morning at 11 o'clock. Mills was driving the truck, the property of the Harry Mills Ice Company, California. None of the three occupants of the truck was injured, all escaping by jumping, but the truck was practically demolished.

A peculiar coincidence of the accident is the fact that at this self-same crossing one year ago, Harry Mills, Jr., was hurt in an accident similar to that of this forenoon, in which he was rendered unconscious for a time, and his father was killed.

California Normal Reserves To Play The Charleroi High School Team Saturday Afternoon At Ball Park

With the scheduling of the strong California Normal School Reserve team for next Saturday afternoon, September 27, it was decided to conduct a season ticket campaign. The demand for these tickets has been very strong during the past two weeks but it seemed inadvisable to have them printed unless the schedule could be completed. An order was placed yesterday with the Mail Publishing Company calling for a limited number of patron and student season tickets. These tickets will be ready for sale Wednesday and it is quite likely that the campaign will be on by that time. Owing to the short length of time left before the game Saturday the order placed was limited. The price was fixed by the Athletic Council at $2.50 for a patron's ticket and one dollar for a students ticket. These season tickets entitle holders to admission to six strong games which are to be played as follows:

September 27—California Normal Reserves.
October 4—Homestead High School.
October 11—Rochester High School.
Otober 25—(Game pending.)
November 15—Clairton High School.

These games will all be attractions as each school represented boasts of strong teams. The date October 25 will be filled with a good attraction and at the present time there are two first class teams that are being considered.

Faculty Manager Copeland will conduct the season ticket campaign and if the same response is received this season as was last season the success of the campaign is assured. The one bright feature of our 1923 season was the loyal support accorded the team by the local fans. It is hoped that the support this season will be as good and perhaps a little better as far as the sale of season tickets is concerned. The season's outlook is bright and fans can be sure of their money's worth.

Telephone requests for patrons tickets will be given prompt attention Phone 64-M or 185-J and all requests will be filled at once. Remember there are but a limited number and these will bes old as rapidly as they are called for. The patron's ticket affords the purchaser of six good games for the price of five—$2.50.

MONON VALLEY CLUB HOLDS HAPPY CADDY TOURNEY

One of the most exciting tournaments that has been played at the Monongahela Valley Country club took place on Saturday afternoon, when the caddy tournament was played with 50 boys participating. The boys lined up to show their skill and uncover some of the fancy shots which they have kept concealed all season. From some of the scores that were turned in it looks as if some of the members of the club should caddy for the caddies in order to see how real golfers play. The first prize was awarded Medio Venturi, who shot a 47 and Vincent Villilli, William Balog and Paul Forlai, tied for second with a 48.

The prize winners, their scores and the club used were as follows: Medio Venturi, brassie; Vincent Villilli, 48, driver; William Balog, 48, iron; Victor Bindi, 49, brassie; Martin Martinella, 50, brassie; Steve Bugar, 52, mashie; Fred Balog, 53, iron; Bill Hozon, 54, driver; Joseph Drotor, 55, brassie; Chris Paterlini, 57, putter; Fiore Vezzani, 59, driver; Morris Moretti, 60, brassie; John Padroskey, 61, brassie; Frank Remen, 62, mashie; George Mitchi, 64, mashie. The Saturday afternoon handicap was won by S. E. Bosworth; J. S. Skelly, second; W. E. McCracken, third; J. H. Neuhart, fourth; L. E. Flint, fifth. S. E. Bosworth won the challenge cup with a net score of 82.

CARD OF THANKS.

PIRATES WILL APPEAL TO HEYDLER FOR A DOUBLE HEADER

New York, September 22.—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, tomorrow will appeal to John A. Heydler, president of the National League, to overrule Manager John J. McGraw's decision that the game scheduled for today between the Giants and the Pirates and called off on account of rain, shall be played Thursday, it was learned tonight. The Pittsburgh magnate objects to McGraw's arrangement on the ground that the Pirates planned to play off a postponed game with Chicago on Thursday, an open day for both teams.

McGraw contends that the Corsairs are bound to play out their schedule in the East before returning to Pittsburgh and that an open date should be used for this purpose. Dreyfuss, on the other hand, maintains that the postponed game should be played as part of a double header tomorrow.

C. E. CRABB IS THE NEW PRESIDENT

At a meeting held by the members of the Varsity club last evening, the following officers were elected unanimously: President, Charles E. Crabb, Jr.; vice president, Dale Crytzer; treasurer, Bernard O'Brien; secretary, Edward Shepard.

It was also decided to hold a series of dances and the committee was appointed as follows: John Anthony, John White, Paul Wagner and George Johns.

In order to join this club one must have earned his letter in some branch of athletics of the local High school. The club members also pledged their support to athletic association of the Charleroi High school.

When your money talks, even in a whisper, nobody seems hard of hearing.

McGRAW DEALS OUT TWO-FISTED WALLOP TO THE PIRATES

Bill McKechnie was called on the telephone at 11 o'clock yesterday. The voice on the other end was owned by an official of the New York club. Said official informed Skipper Bill that there would be no game between the Giants and Pirates. It was further stated by the man possessing New York authority that the Pirates would have to remain over Thursday to play off the battle.

The double dose of injustice had a two-fisted reaction on the Pirates. McKechnie and his men realize tonight that a game could have been played; furthermore Thursday already has been booked for the Cubs in Pittsburgh.

The sun came out shortly after the "inspired" deision of the New York management. The skies clouded up again but no more rain fell until 6 o'clock this evening, and the little fall of the night and early morning was not sufficient to stop a ball game.

It is further resolved that inasmuch as Brooklyn and Chicago battled in the Flatbush, McGraw could have staged a game, doubtless would have done as much if the conditions pertaining to the Pirates and Giants were reversed.

What Are We Coming To?

The other day in this city an operatic tenor offered as evidence of his affection for his wife the plea that he always washed the dishes, says the New York Evening Post. Such stories as these offer a fine opportunity for novelists to portray the wifely sturdy oaks and the husbandly clinging vines. The tired business woman coming home, finding the easy chair near the fire, her slippers warm, while the husband sits on the arm of her chair, lights her cigarette and prattles about his household cares—a very pretty picture. And the husbands need not mind, so long as their wives don't beat them.

BERNSTEIN-DEMARCO FIGHT AT NEW YORK SET BACK AGAIN

New York, Sept. 22.—Luis Vicentini and Sid Barbarian and Jack Bernstein and Cuddy DeMarco were virtually matched today to meet in a double windup at Madison Square Garden a week from next Friday, but both contests suddenly fell through, leaving Messrs. Flournoy and Monteith, matchmakers for Rickard, very much up in the air.

Vicentini, the Chilean lightweight, who suddenly sprang into favor here a few months ago by knocking out Rocky Kansas of Buffalo, decided that the date offered him by the Garden would not give him sufficient time in which to train. Luis said he was just recovering from a severe cold. That knocked that match galley-west.

Doc Hirsch, manager of Jack Bernstein, put a crimp in the other contest in a manner almost unique in boxing annals. He said he preferred to have Bernstein meet DeMarco in New Haven for less money than was offered him for the same contest in Madison Square Garden.

COMING BACK TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

New York, Sept. 22—Who's who in the featherweight class? Thought they were going to hold some sort of an elimination tournament to find out who should boss that gang. Well, it won't make any difference. Johnny Dundee is still the featherweight champion until some one knocks him from under the title. The business of retiring from a division or passing over of a title to some other member of the crew doesn't hold good in the boxing game. Titles must be won and lost in the ring, and, until such time as Johnny Dundee is beaten at the featherweight limit, he will still be champion of that division, no matter how many tournaments they hold.

Heres a tip on the situation. Johnny Dundee intends to sneak back pretty soon and announce that he was only fooling about retiring as a featherweight. He is decided that that is worth too much to pass up without a big purse in return. Dundee will find he does not belong in the lightweight class. Then watch him step back to his own set.

A match between Dundee and Louis Kid Kaplan of Meriden for the feather championship is a certainty. Dundee meets Kid Sullivan, the Brooklyn boy.

MILLER HUGGINS SAYS CHANCES ARE SLIM — WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

BY MILLER HUGGINS,
Manager of the New York Yankees.

Cleveland, Sept. 23.—As long as there is a mathematical possibility, the Yankees will be in the pennant race. The prospects aren't the best, but we haven't given up and we'll be in there trying until the last out is made.

Washington has been playing fine ball. To beat them out and win the pennant we will have to play better ball and it is not the part of a traitor to admit the difficulty of that task. We are two full games behind with only six games to go. A lead of two games is nothing in mid-season but in the last week it is a great advantage.

We had done so well on the road earlier in the season that we all felt confident when we left New York. But we didn't get the results we expected. The injury to Wally Schang, which lost him to the club was a severe blow. The loss of a good catcher is always serious to a club, but it was more than that in our case, because he has been of such great value in handling our pitchers, most of whom he had worked with for years.

The strain and tension of the hot pennant race should not have told on a veteran club that has been through three pennant races where the competition was almost as spirited. Many of our players had been through the test before they came to the Yankees. But the erratic fielding that was exhibited in several games indicated that the strain was telling.

We lost two or three games recently on wild pitches and errors that the boys never were guilty of before.

Ruth's great hitting carried the club through the last invasion of the west but the Babe got into a slump in the last two weeks and he began to try so hard that he wasn't able to get out of it.

Withal, the Yankees are a great club and they are not the kind to curl up. The players all know the seriousness of the situation facing them and they'll do their best. No more can be asked of them.

Father of Brass Bands

The brass band has existed for less than a century. "That little German band" was the father of all modern brass bands. Along about 1840, in Germany, the "band" was born, though actually the first collection of outdoor instruments which history traces dates back to the Saracens, whom the crusaders met in the Holy Land in the Middle ages.

The first bands in Germany were called "thurmer bands," because they played in towers. For almost half a century the brass band was almost solely an army unit. The great bands of history were regimental bands. Germany even appointed a bandmaster-general, Wieprecht, who invented the bass tuba, the giant bass horn of today.—Detroit News.

ASIR, LEAST KNOWN OF THE WAR ALLIES

Yet It Is a Country of a Million People.

Washingon.—When France elects a new president or England reorganizes her cabinet the news is flashed around the world; Asir's dethronement of an emir passes practically unnoticed.

"Yet Asir is a country of a million people, it was associated with the allies in the war, and it was playing its part in the ancient world when our European ancestors were dressing in skins and living in caves." So says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

One Sure Boundary.

"Where is Asir? The one certain statement on that point is that its western boundary is the Red sea. It lies between the southern border of Hedjaz—wherever that border is—and the northern frontier of Yemen—wherever that is. Even more hazy is its eastern delimitation from Nedj.

"Asir's vague boundaries comprise one of the least nomadic peoples of the Arabian peninsulas. Its mountains make it as independent as little [illegible] valleys offer every inducement for the roving Arab to settle down.

"There are Nomads in Asir, however, notably a tribe who, theologically, are fundamentalist Mohammedans and, from their appearance have been called the 'hairy heretics.' They declined to recognize any caliphs after the death of Ali, the prophet's son-in-law. They let their heavy hair grow in huge, bushy mops, suggesting the fluffy American girls' 'bob,' because it protects them from the blistering sun This style of headdress is not peculiar to Asir. It prevails among the Arabian desert nomads.

"Yemen, to the south of Asir, is known because of Mocha, its one-time coffee center. Hedjaz, to the north, is widely advertised, if not known, because of its holy city, Mecca. No European had visited some of Asir's towns until the little district made common cause with the allies in the hope of throwing off the Turkish yoke And when the Turkish stronghold surrendered it did so sight unseen.

Capital Is City of Huts.

"It was only recently that an official in India visited Asir's capital, Sabiyah, and gave the outside world the first description of this curious seat of government—a city of huts. These round huts are by no means squalid; they are circular, bee-hive structures, made of clay laid upon a palmleaf base. A recent Emir decided to build a more distinctive executive mansion, so he chose mud brick and had erected a three-story palace. A few wealthy merchants copied this innovation.

"The coast of Asir is a lowland zone 20 or 30 miles wide, and back of this strip lie the mountains and valleys which are virtually unknown."

Ohio Town Has Mayor and Cop; but No Population

Canton, Ohio.—The entire village of Lindentree, Ohio, with its 43 dwellings, is waiting for occupants to move in with rent free promised for a year.

The village was purchased recently by C A. Kolp, Canton business man, at public auction, held on the front steps of the Carroll county courthouse, Carrollton. It was prosperous when the mines were working. Now it is deserted by all except the mayor, the town marshal, his deputy, and one family.

Following his purchase, Kolp announced that he would place the "keys of the village" in the hands of any Ohio organization or group of responsible persons who want to occupy it for any length of time up to one year.

In addition to the dwellings the village has one school house, a garage, and meeting place, a public square, one store building and one town pump.

Deer Learn Quickly

Washington—The bureau of national parks reports that the deer in Glacier National park, quick to learn the advantage of the immunity furnished by Uncle Sam's protective arm, have remained in the vicinity of the park administration buildings all winter. About 150 of the white-tailed variety came down from the inaccessible Rocky mountain recesses when winter first set in and they have depended on rations given them daily by the forest rangers.

Tricked by Gypsies

Mahanoy City, Pa.—Mr. and Mrs Lesco Chubak of Trenton, N. J., reported to state police that while visiting here they had been swindled by gypsies out of their life savings of more than $3,000. One of the fortune tellers, they asserted, predicted that Chubak would die and that his wife would go insane unless the fates were propitiated with money The couple said they turned the money over to win the gypsies' intercession.

A Mathematical Hen

Carthage, Mo.—J. S. Tindill, of Kendricktown, has a mathematical hen and the animal is atracting great attention. Recently Tindell took to a newspaper office in this city an egg that had been laid by the hen on which the figure "2" had been raised on the larger end of the shell. Tindell previously had found several eggs with numerals on them. The eggs are being drained and placed on exhibition

RADIO BRIGHTENS LIVES FOR DEAF

Rapid Progress Being Made in Experiments.

Washington.—Radio is brightening the lives of many persons who are hard of hearing. New radio experiments are hastening progress in apparatus for overcoming deafness. The prospects there are really remarkable. But some of the stories about deaf people being cured by radio are fairy tales, beautiful but untrue.

These and other unadorned facts about the misunderstood subject of radio and hearing are related and explained by Miss Josephine Timberlake, who is the superintendent of the Volta bureau, which Alexander Graham Bell founded "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge relating to the deaf."

More than once the report has been circulated that some individual, deaf and mute from birth, picked up radio earphones and was enchanted to find that he could understand every word of a speech. This is not plausible. To a person who had never learned the sounds of English words, the radio's message, if heard, would be totally unintelligible. Other equally [illegible] stories are also current Effect Is Like Telephone.

The effect of radio upon the deaf person is neither mysterious nor supernatural. It is not unlike the effect of the telephone. Every one knows some person who is hard of hearing, but who can converse comfortably over a telephone The telephone sends the message concentrated and direct to the ear Then, too the receiver is usually pressed against the bone in front or back of the ear and this causes the message to be carried by what is known as bone conduction Instead of traveling from the outer ear, through the middle ear passage to the inner ear, sound vibrations are caught by one of the head bones and carried direct to the inner ear In consequence, if the person's trouble is in the middle ear, where so many hearing difficulties are located, he may be able to use a telephone with a success that surprises his friends.

Radio apparatus is even more accommodating than the telephone The individual who is hard of hearing generally requires a rather powerful and delicate set Whether a deaf person can hear over a radio set depends on the extent and character of his deafness. Roughly speaking, if the apparatus in his head is sufficiently sensitive to catch the highly amplified sounds, he can.

As to the possibility of radio improving his hearing in ordinary conversation, this is not very likely. It may be that practice in hearing voices over the radio makes the deaf person who is apt to avoid conversation more successful in catching the words of his friends. It may be, too, that the radio apparatus stimulates the ear to a slightly greater sensitiveness

Loud Speaker Was Too Loud.

Several clubs for the hard of hearing have installed radio sets and report that they are extremely popular At first one club tried using a loud speaker but when the apparatus was adjusted so that all of the members could hear, the noise was deafening It upset business on three floors of the building. Ear phones proved more satisfactory. Each member adjusts his own for volume, and on nights when phones are in unusual demand, the head sets are divided by [illegible] who can hear with one phone.

Indirect benefits of radio will be far more important to the deaf than the pleasure they get from listening in, it is said Radio receiving apparatus is very much like the portable electric devices which many deaf people wear to amplify sound for them. These devices consist of a battery, transmitter, and one or two receivers Improvements in radio apparatus have consequently been applied to portable hearing devices, and several electric companies have become interested in the problem of perfecting electric devices for the deaf.

A millionaire, who was determined to make science overcome his deafness, engaged the services of one of these electric companies The company's men studied the millionaire's case of deafness and his house They experimented carefully. At last they established a battery about the size of a cupboard in the residence. This battery was connected with each room in the house. Now, the deaf millionaire puts on head phones in any room and he can catch any sound in it

One of the triumphs of this piece of research is that the ear phone for each ear is constructed to suit the condition of deafness in that ear This means that hearing in the two ears is equalized The deaf person, whose hearing is better in one ear than in the other is not able to distinguish the directions from which sounds come If some one knocks at a door the deaf person has to guess which door is to be opened If an automobile horn sounds on the street he has to look all around to see whence the warning comes The millionaire's receiving apparatus corrects this inequality of hearing, just as eyeglasses correct inequality of vision.

BOOTLEGGERS' PATRONS WARNED.

The great numbers of Americans employing the services of bootleggers have doubtless in most cases assumed that, though it is illegal to sell, it is not illegal to buy. This impression has received severe shock in Arkansas, where the Federal authorities have used the list surrendered by a convicted bootlegger as a basis for warrants for the arrest of his real or alleged customers, who are said to include prominent citizens and even high officials. These respectable and supposedly law-abiding persons are now charged with procuring, possessing [illegible] liquors. And according to report this is only the beginning of a drastic Federal campaign against the customers of bootleggers in all the States.

If such persons can be brought to book in Arkansas and elsewhere, there is [illegible] these United States. It is scarcely too much to say that Congressmen, Senators, Governors, even Judges and clergymen—if all one hears is true—will share with ordinary citizens the danger of seeing the inside of a court, if not a jail, with all the anguish of publicity involved. However, there may be means of escape from the dreadful peril in not a few instances. It will be possible to claim—perhaps is many cases truthfully—that one's name is on such a tell tale list not as a customer but merely as a "praspect," and the bootlegger's word, unsupported by other evidence would hardly be accepted by a court as sufficient to convict. But it is likely that the mere danger of being publicly accused will tend to alleviate thirst and to decrease the number of Bootleggers' sales.

LABOR CAPITALISM.

Theoretically a considerable part of labor is still fighting capital, but actually the workers are rapidly becoming their own capitalists. Labor banks have increased in number, and now the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have organized the Brotherhood Securities Corporation of New York, the primary purpose of which, it is said, is to finance the establishment of new Brotherhood banks in the Eastern States and, through majority stock ownership, to control those that are opened. The Brotherhood already owns a bank in New York, another in Boston and is planning a third in Philadelphia. The new securities corporation is said to be similar to two other holding companies which the Brotherhood has already organized to finance and control their banks in other sections, the Brotherhood Investment Company in Cleveland and the Pacific Investment Company on the coast.

This development of co-operative capitalism in the ranks of labor adds interest to the view of Prof. N. T. Carver of Harvard that the labor movement in America, notwithstanding claims to the contrary, is "far in advance" of that of any other country. "The labor movement of this country" he says, "is passing out of the primitive fighting stage in which leadership concerned itself chiefly with the immediate tactics of battle. It is passing into a stage in which it is concerning itself with the higher strategy of manoeuvring for permanent advantage. The leaders of labor in no other country show any sign of being aware of the first principles of this higher strategy, nor, for that matter, do the more vociferous self-appointed champions of labor in this country."

While Long Island crowds were struggling to get a glimpse of royalty the other day another crowd in London was doing its utmost to take a look at a much younger Prince Charming from "the States." We read that "women fought with one another for positions of vantage at St. James, and Jackie Coogan was extricated from the melee with difficulty by his father who carried him on his shoulder to the palace." Wales is 24 years older than Jackie, but both apticate with a boyish smile.

Lieut. Locatelli, the daring aviator was mobbed by Philadelphia Italians, because the politics he elects to stand for in Italy did not suit them—which seems, for one thing, that in their case the process of Americanization leaves much to be desired.

A Brooklyn girl has received a legacy of $100,000 because she "brought sunshine and happiness into the life" of an elderly aunt. Sunshine of that sort pays in moral residum even when it is not so substantially appreciated.

What the World Is Doing

Garage Doors That Roll Overhead Save Space and Repair Bills

Garage, factory and warehouse doors that roll up overhead are being manufactured to replace the ordinary hinged or sliding door. They are constructed in panels, somewhat like the roll top of an office desk, and slide on flanged rollers and steel tracks. When the door is opened, it is inside where it cannot be damaged by the weather and cannot blow shut. It is counterbalanced by strong steel springs, locks automatically when closed, fits flush with the floor and is not [illegible] As it does not project beyond the building, it is convenient where the garage or other structure is erected in limited space.

Spark-Plug Cleaner

Stranded copper wire makes a spark-plug cleaner that can be used without taking the plug apart and is harmless to the porcelain. It will not clean the insulator as well as when the plug is taken apart and polished with steel wool, but will serve in an emergency. The best results are obtained when a length of lamp-cord is doubled over and both ends used. The insulation of the wire should not be removed for more than ½ in. as it stiffens the end of the wire if left on.

Paint for Cardboard Panels and Coils

An insulating paint, which has been found serviceable for painting cardboard panels and coils in radio work, can be made by anyone at practically no cost. A pint of denatured alcohol is obtained, and an old phonograph record, which is broken up into many small pieces, is dropped into the alcohol. This can be done best in a fruit jar. The cap is screwed down tightly and the mixture allowed to stand for a few days until the pieces of record have been thoroughly dissolved. The mixture is stirred well before it is used and is applied with a brush. The work must be done fast, as the paint dries rapidly, leaving a black film on the surface. Two coats are sufficient for any material. The application stiffens the cardboard considerably and produces a fine dull finish. One pint of the mixture will cover from 15 to 20 sq. ft., and sometimes more.

Rifle Range Target in Golf Net Improves Player's Accuracy

To teach accuracy in driving, a steel golf-practice net has been installed in a Los Angeles club. It has the bull's-eye and circles of a rifle-range target at which the ball is driven. "Slicing" or "pulling" is accurately shown, and distance also may be gauged by the spot the sphere strikes. Being of metal, the net will withstand much abuse and the strongest drives.

Novel Roof Economizes Lumber

Temporary buildings can be roofed much more quickly and with less lumber if the roofing boards are laid across the rafters diagonally, as shown in the illustration. Each board overlaps the one below it in order to shed rain, making the roof practically waterproof. Roofs made in this way have been found quite satisfactory.

Three comets are due to approach near the earth in 1924, astronomers at the naval observatory have announced. They are the Encke and Temple, which will appear in November, and the Tuttle, coming in December. Special preparations are to be made to study them, it is said, as scientists have no means of determining what may have happened to them since they passed out of sight.

Demetrios Sigelakis, more adventurous than even Ulysses of deathless fame, has left his homeland of Greece on a voyage round the world in a 24-foot sailing boat, with no engine, no assistant sailor, and with only food and water for five months. He plans to "sail by night and sleep by day, solitary on the sea." All of which suggests that he is a little off his head as well as "a sailor of experience."

The great American Woolen corporation has cut dividends instead of wages, but the 8000 workers of the Manville-Jenskes cotton mills in Rhode Island have been told that they must be content with a 10 per cent reduction, and so there are renewed fears of a widespread textile strike when prosperous and contented labor is counted on as a political asset.

Grant and Krauser, sentenced to die in Illinois for the murder of a policeman, were at the time of the crime about the age of Leopold and Loeb and are still minors. But there is one difference seemingly of vast importance; they are poor and the slayers of the Franks boy are rich.

It is said that in the big towns horses are still used more than motors for "jobs requiring many stops," and probably they always will be for the good reason indicated.

MY RADIO.

The hours I spend with thee, dear heart,
Are fraught with joy and bliss, although
At times I'd like to kick apart
My radio, my radio.
Each word a shriek, each song a blare,
But still I tune and tune in vain—
I listen in unto the end, and there
You screech again.
"B" batteries and amphiphone,
Oh, tuning coil that makes me cross
I wish that I could cure your static groan
But you're a loss, sweetheart, a total loss.

Some of those bob haired bandits down east ought to be snatched baldheaded.

The first of the month always brings a bored feeling because we have to plank down to meet the bills.

Anybody seeking peace may get something like it by tuning their radios in to Station BOK, Philadelphia. But there is always a lot of static in the air.

Here is a paragraph from a story called "The Mystery of the Vanished Hours," which appeared recently in the Chicago Tribune:

"She stepped into the bath, surrendered herself to the water's voluptuous familiarity, but the sensuousness of the embrace repelled her with its implication of luxurious security, seemed an alien and perfidious presence in whose contact there was something lewd."

Elmer, who reads such things, makes this comment on that paragraph: "Perhaps the water was a little fresh."

Girlie: Can you give me a couple of rooms?

Clerk: Yes. Suite one.

Girlie: Sir!

The most valuable bull that a farmer owns is the one that gets struck by a locomotive.

Johnny: You'd better not. Ma's as [illegible] as a cat.

Gates Have History

A pair of wooden gates which stood in front of the palace of beauty at the British Empire exhibition are copies of the sacred gates of the Teheran mosque and have a most romantic and tragic history. They were made by a poor Persian wood-carver, who defied the decrees that they were not to be copied. Each day he made a pilgrimage to the mosque, committed some detail to memory, and then went home and wrought it in the wood. But his visits caused suspicion to fall upon him, he was watched, his secret discovered, and, on the completion of his task, he was found murdered, and his work disappeared. Presently the gates came into the hands of Persian dealers, who sold them at a sacrifice rather than keep them, and at length they were recognized in a small London curio shop, and became one of Wembley's multitude of attractions.

Jesus' Mother Tongue

The mother tongue of Jesus was probably the Syriac dialect of the Aramaic language which was generally spoken in Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia. The people of Galilee, where Jesus was brought up generally spoke the provincial language with a peculiar accent, which distinguished them from the people of Jerusalem and other parts of Palestine (Mark 14:70 and Matthew 26:73). There appears to be no evidence that Jesus ever spoke any foreign tongue such as Greek or Latin. Neither is it likely that He could read the Hebrew in the original although the Syriac language which He spoke contained many Hebrew words in its vocabulary.—Pathfinder Magazine.

My Beauty

Is all due to beauty helps.
By Edna Wallace Hopper.

I was a plain girl with little distinction. I made myself a famous beauty. Now, after 35 years as a stage star, I remain a beauty still. The thousands who see me daily on the stage know that I look 19.

Edna Wallace Hopper

When I was a girl my rich mother took me on a world search for the supreme beauty helps. Those helps made me famous. Since then I have kept in touch with every new discovery. I have made many trips to France. So what I was and what I am are due to scientific help.

Now women have convinced me that I should share these helps with others. Millions of girls and women want what I have gained. So I have combined all the helps I have discovered in four preparations with 52 ingredients. And I have arranged so that all druggists and toilet counters offer them to all who wish.

One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth Lucie Lantelme, the famous Parisian beauty, first told me what it did. Now great beauty experts the world over are advising this formula. No other cleanser which man has discovered does what this cleanser does.

My Facial Youth contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot in any way assimilate with the skin. It simply cleans to the depths, then departs. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter comes out with it.

That is the first beauty essential—an utterly clean skin. But I never dreamed what a clean skin meant until I found this Facial Youth.

Now Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. The cost is 75c.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 535 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

MR. MERCHANT:

Have you ever thought of this?

YOU may be entertained by news of the Yanks and the Giants, but you are not vitally interested unless you have money at stake; and the shifting of European boundaries doesn't affect you half so much as the softness of your mattress, the comfort of your shoes, what you ate for breakfast, how much your last hat cost.

That's why advertising news deserves as much attention as sporting or international news. The advertisments keep you informed of all the latest comforts and conveniences that can make your daily living more delightful. They tell where to secure the best, how to save money, how to lessen work, have a better home, better food, better clothes, more luxuries.

You can't keep up with the daily news---the kind that affects you most ---unless you read the advertisements.

They are the chronometers of local time. You'll find it highly profitable to adjust your living by them.

Advertising is the only news that really saves you money--read them all. The wide-awake merchant has his own little story to tell in the Mail advertising columns.

Scientist's Explanation by No Means Flattering

A spiritualist, who also was something of an orator, visited a town where a skeptical scientist lived, and delivered a lecture one afternoon, the lecturer's desire being to convert the scientist to his belief. The audience was large, including the scientist, who had attended by special invitation.

The next day the spiritualist called on the scientist with hope that his effort had been successful. "What did you think of my lecture?" he asked.

"Well," said the scientist, "I couldn't sleep last night at all, and I lay it to your talk."

The spiritualist was highly flattered. "I knew my argument would make you think," he said. "Is it not so?"

"I am not so certain about that. Whenever I sleep during the day I cannot sleep at night."—Los Angeles Times.

VERONA MAN SAYS ANOTHER GAVE HIM POISON TABLETS

New Kensington, Sept. 23—In an ante-mortem statement given Allegheny county detectives, William A. Gaskell, of Verona accused Charles W. Beam of Pittsburgh of having given him poison tablets that probably will cause his death.

Meanwhile Beam, who is under arrest, is being questioned along with Mrs. Esther Thomas, 23, at whose home the tablets were said to have been given Gaskell early Sunday.

The facts ran out in the case disclose that Gaskell and the woman formerly were married, living in Brownsville, but she obtained a divorce and moved to Pittsburgh, where she married Alfred Thomas, from whom she has since been separated. Gaskell lived at her home, it is said.

Mrs. Thomas denied she intended poisoning Gaskell declaring she gave the bottle of tablets to Beam thinking they were headache tablets. She admitted they all had been drinking.

"PERFECT FLAPPER" PLEASES MANY

Last night the Majestic Theatre was the scene of another victory for the modern flapper, of which we hear so much these days. The cause is Colleen Moore and the weapon she uses is "The Perfect Flapper," a First National picture. It was also directed by John Francis Dillon—combinations that made "Flaming Youth" the sensation of the past season.

Colleen proves conclusively that she is the rightful holder of the crown. She has been given a cast and production that will go down as one nearing perfection. To say that "The Perfect Flapper" has "everything" is to say only a part of it. The picture is full of comedy and pathos, stunning gowns and daring, thrilling escapes and spectacular scenes, flawless direction and beautiful photography, and above all—it has the one and only Colleen who is herself the very embodiment of up-to-date American girlhood.

Sydney Chaplin in an important role gives the picture its greatest comedy moments. He is acclaimed, and rightly, one of screendom's greatest comedians, and if his work in "The Perfect Flapper" does not land him on the very top of the ladder of comedy we miss our guess. The scenes representing Colleen as Juliet and Chaplin as Romeo, are especially clever and well-handled. They are shown in the celebrated balcony scene, which to our mind becomes one of the most laugh-provoking scenes ever filmed.

Frank Mayo is handsome as ever and does some very creditable work. Lydia Knott as Aunt Sarah is in strange contrast to the dynamic Colleen, while her father, played by Charles Wellesley, is a splendid old fellow, who understands and loves his bewildered little girl.

What the Banker Can Tell

The quickest and most satisfactory reference is a bank.

Credit, or reputation for industry and ability—it's the same in both cases. The banker is the man whose opinion will carry most weight with the individual to whom application has been made for credit, or a loan, or a job, or a contract.

Many a man has forged ahead faster because his banker knew him and was able to speak in his favor.

We're not stressing our importance.

Our whole thought is—don't you need a bank account here, and the helpful, broad, interested service this Bank offers?

Presbyteries Are To Hold Sessions--Prosperity And At Washington

Last night the Washington presbytery of the Presbyterian church convened for theregular fall meeting in the Upper Ten Mile Presbyterian church, Prosperity.

The open session was a popular meeting with an address by the Rev. James Mease Potter, D. D., pastor of the Vance Memorial church, Wheeling West Virginia. The session was to be continued through today, with the election of commissioners to synod, and reports of program and field activities. A meeting was to be held at 1:30, at which time a memorial service was to be held for the late A. F. Alexander, former pastor of Mt. Prospect church, Hickory.

Chartiers presbytery of the United Presbyterian church was convened at 10 o'clock this morning in the Second United Presbyterian hcurch, Washington. Delegates were elected to the annual meeting of synod to be held next month, and this afternoon a conference on church finances was to be held.

R. R. CONDITIONS LOOKING BETTER

Slow but steady increase in business in the Pittsburgh district is seen in a report dealing with loaded car movements in the Central Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, issued through the Pittsburgh offices yesterday.

The loaded car movements during a 24-hour period Wednesday amounted to 32,073 cars, the highest number recorded since March 14, 1924. This increase includes all commodities, but is omparatively lower for iron ore, coal and coke.

Coal car loadings are shown to be improving, as 19,000 cars were loaded the week of September 13, and the figures for the present week, also of September 13,and the figures for the present week, although not definitely computed, are running considerably over that number.

All engines have been ordered out of storage and put in condition for active service. The first of deliveries in the recent order for 10,000 cars is expeted in the near future.

The average daily loaded car movement for March was 30,143 cars; for July, 24, 128 cars; for August, 25,679 cars; and for the first 17 days of September, 27,322 cars. This indicates the brief period of business inflation in the spring, the lower point reached at mid-summer, and the clow recovery most in progress.

With the production from 1200 coke ovens placed in blast in Fayette county during the past few days the number of daily car loading is expected to be increased for the latter half of September.

Figureheads on Ships

Time was when a vessel would as soon have thought about starting out with a leak as without a figurehead, and the farther back one goes the more was this a fact. The earliest discovered model of a figurehead belonged to a pleasure boat of one of ancient Egypt's dark-eyed queens, being in the form of a lotus, and so very much to her mind and heart that she had it buried with her. But warships with animals carved upon the prows are shown to have existed in Egypt before the day of this queen; in fact, as early as 1000 B. C., writes an authority on maritime history. The subject usually corresponds to the name of the ship.

Apparently each particular nation had a favorite emblem. The owl was as conspicuous on the Athenian ships as was the cock, that emblem of vigilance, on the prows of the Phoenicians. The shining blade of St. Theodore, the patron saint of the Venedians, was their favored figurehead.—Detroit News.

While there are plenty of wild Indians in parts of Paraguay, no living man ever saw a pure-blooded Guarani. Inhabiting the alluvial and easily accessible sections, they were conquered and assimilated by the Spanish centuries ago, ceasing to exist as a separate people.

The common people of Paraguay, however, speak Guarani more readily than Spanish and nearly all place names are in the language. It is a very simple tongue with a total vocabulary of less than 800 words. The only numerals are 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Cleanliness was a virtue of the Guaranis. No matter how ragged and dilapidated a Paraguayan peon may be his clothes and his person are clean. That he was not unskilled in certain artistic crafts is shown by the exquisite nanduty lace, peculiar to Paraguay, the most sheer, cobwebby, delicately beautiful thing of its kind in all the world. The art of making it has been lost.—Detroit News.

THE DOG LAW IS INSURANCE

Without the Pennsylvania Dog Law, it would be impossible to protect human beings, live stock, poultry, wild game and good dogs from the ravages of the worthless, uncontrolled dog, states J. L. Passmore, who is in charge of the Dog Law Enforcement work in the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

"The dog law is an effective means for protecting live stock and poultry also wild game from the uncontrolled stray destructive dog," Passmore explains. "Even more important is the protection of human lives from the menace of dogs affected with rabies.

"Without the dog law the losses to private property throughout the state would be tremendous due to the resulting increase of the stray, uncontrolled dog and the owner of any damaged property would have no recourse for compensation for his loss.

"Contrary to an expressed opinion, the dog law is life insurance for the properly licensed dog and is not a means of eliminating the properly cared for dog. Frequently licensed dogs are recovered by their owners through being identified by the license tag. Field agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry have in many instances found homes for good stray unlicensed dogs rather than have them killed. It is also explained that a properly licensed and tagged dog cannot be killed except when found in the act of attacking human beings live stock or poultry. Under the law, a dog is personal property and the owner can recover the value of the dog when illegally killed. Thus, the law is a real protection for the good dog and it is given a much better standing in the community."

Winnebago Indians Like to Wear Fancy Clothes

As clothing the early Winnebago wore a breechclout, moccasins, leggings and robes of dressed skins. The advent of the French trader added to their dress, but at all times we find both men and women combing their hair straight back, parted in the middle and tied behind their heads in braids, later decorated by ribbons. Thomas Anderson, who spent a winter trading with them on the Rock river in 1802, said that they were the most filthy, most obstinate and bravest people of any Indian tribe. When the French came they added blankets to their garb, white for winter and bright colors for the summer.

In the governor's reception room in the state capitol at Madison, Wis., the surrender of the noted Chief Red Bird, which ended the Winnebago war in 1825, is cleverly depicted. Red Bird, the prisoner, is pictured as having one side of his face painted red, the other intermixed with green and white, clothed in a Yankton suit of dressed [illegible] as soft as a kid glove. It consisted of a jacket, ornamented with a fringe of the same material and enriched with blue beads.

On his feet he wears moccasins, and on each shoulder, in place of an epaulette, is fastened a stuffed red bird. Around his neck hang strands of wampum of various lengths, and he holds a war pipe in his hand, ornamented with dyed horse hair and feathers of birds.—Detroit News.

Made-Over Bush Nut Can Be Easily Opened

For many years the delicious bush nut of Australia, known variously as the Australian, Queensland and polar nut, has baffled horticulturists. It had a rare and delicate flavor, was a food for an epicure, but its shell was about the hardest known to mankind.

The size of a small pigeon's egg, brown and shiny, one might jump on it and hammer it with one's heel without leaving the faintest impression save on the heel. Something in the nature of a blacksmith's hammer and anvil was required to smash the shell.

After years of disappointing experiments [illegible] official word comes that J. S. Waldron, who lives on the south coast of New South Wales, has produced a thin-shelled bush nut. Several plant generations have demonstrated the success of the new nut, according to the Queensland government botanist and the director of fruit culture, who inspected the Waldron farm.

The made-over bush nut is said to retain the flavor and the indestructible shell has been replaced by one that may be opened with reasonable facility.—Detroit News.

Bricks Made From Dirt

Compressed bricks made from ordinary dirt have been developed for house construction by two French engineers. In the process ordinary subsoil earth containing 5 to 8 per cent clay is compressed by tremendous pressure. The resultant bricks are said to have a pressure resistance of 600 pounds a square inch.—Popular Science Monthly.

His "Mean" Had Developed

Dean and Dorothy had always been good friends, and played nicely until Dean returned from a three months' visit to his aunt, who spoiled him. After playing with him the first afternoon of his return and finding him quarrelsome, Dorothy said: "My, Dean, but your mean growed a lot while you was gone."

"Pomp" originally meant a procession, but as these were generally very splendid the word came to mean anything splendid, whilst the adjective, pompous, has come to mean a mere semblance of splendor. To say today that a man has a pompous manner is an insult.
